Corporate Games News May 19, 2015

From the Director

... a quick debrief survey

The 2015 Corporate Games ended with a festive Harbor Cove Beach party on Saturday, May 9, under cool blue skies as teams competed for Overall and Unity points in Tug-O-War and Sandcastles.

Before we review the winners, here's a quick look-back at this year's changes:

Northrop Grumman Cathy O'brien

Amgen Angie Ran

- 1) Opening Ceremonies moved to the Ventura Community Park;
- 2) Rain actually postponed one event -- Tennis;
- 3) Closing Ceremonies featured a Kids Zone at Harbor Village;
- 4) Corn Hole is now a two-day tournament during Opening & Closing Ceremonies;
- 5) We added Lazertag as a new event in Simi Valley and
- 6) Speed Scrabble to the Table Games held at Four Points Sheraton
- 7) while Texas Hold'em became a standalone competition;
- 8) Teams like Oxnard PD and SAGE Publications moved up a division

The most effective way to improve your company's performance in the future is to take a critical look at what happened this year while the memories are fresh and make adjustment for next. To help you evaluate, we've created a quick SURVEY to gather your input of likes and suggesti for making the Games better next year. Simply click on the link and complete the survey by M 30. Your input is very important to the continued success of the Corporate Games.

...and the winners are

We often measure success by the number of medals won, or points achieved, but the real measure of the Corporate Games is the development of friendships and the strengthening of t winning culture within your company. Companies that participate in the Corporate Games are winners already, because they recognize the importance of maintaining a happy and healthy workforce. If someone in your company participated in a team event and developed a new

New Indy Christian Contreras (contest relationship, or decided to live a healthier lifestyle, then the Corporate Games is a success. If an event made your players laugh or smile, the Games were successful.

Award recognizes companies that exemplify the true spirit of the Corporate Games. Their teams may or may not have the strongest athletes, but they do all the little things that make a company great including at least three of the following: Community Service, Core Hole Fundraiser, Office Olympics, Photo Contest, Run/Walk/Jog, Sandcastle Contest, and T-Shirt Contest, plus what JD always stresses "No Whinning."

Division D - DK Electric

Division C - Parker Hannifin - Oxnard

Division B - SAGE Publications

Division AA - California State University Channel Islands
